

Impacts on Wetlands

- Coastal wetlands are vulnerable to sea level rise and coastal erosion
 - At risk: fish, shellfish, flood and erosion control, habitat
- Inland freshwater marshes (including prairie potholes) are vulnerable to hotter, drier conditions
 - At risk: migratory bird and other species habitat
- Western riparian wetlands are vulnerable to hotter, drier conditions
 - At risk: fish and wildlife habitat, flood and erosion control, water quality, grazing