RE: EPA Docket No. CWA-03-2018-0070DW

Dear Mr. Curling:

On Wednesday, July 27, 2022, The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (“EPA”) conducted an injunctive relief inspection of the aquatic resource restoration activities associated with the Administrative Order for Compliance (“Order”), Docket CWA-03-2018-0070DW. In accordance with the Order, a restoration resolution, entitled “Resolution – Curling Site Shillelagh Road, Chesapeake, VA”, was implemented during the 2018 growing season. In summary, the resolution stipulated the restoration of the regulated areas to forested wetland through natural regeneration. Grading, plowing, discing, or other earth work was prohibited. Apart from the maintenance of access paths, mowing was also prohibited. Additionally, all recently excavated drainage ditches were to be filled and graded to a pre-impact condition.

Based on the conditions observed during the inspection, the restoration areas appeared to be well functioning and were consistent with the conditions established in the approved restoration resolution. Thus, EPA has determined that Mr. Charles Curling has met the requirements of the aforementioned order and considers this docket to be closed.
