Our IT department has "recovered" the original email you sent in December. We are acknowledging this date receipt of the ESA and cover letter.

Please advise what "next steps" are.
Thanks!

Mr. Jones,

I sent the attachments in two separate emails. You didn't mention that the January 4th email didn't come through. I'm not sure why you would receive the subsequent emails but not the ones with an attachment. Perhaps, your system has some sort of firewall block or it went to your spam folder.

It appears the emails with the attachments are not going through.

Thanks,

Shannon L. Richardson

I'm not disputing that you sent it. I'm saying I don't have it. Here is my email from Wednesday, Jan 4. I'm not sure why you can't just re-send the email with the original attachments if the intent is to get this resolved.

Allison, Andy and Fernando, Fantastic job yesterday. As I drove back to the office, I had the feeling that this matter is finally moving closer to a resolution. Although the warranty claims are likely to continue through the end of the one-year ...

Good afternoon Shannon. A couple of days ago, when I got the email asking whether I received the December 12 email, I replied that I had searched my in box and my spam folder and said that I could not locate the letter or whatever was sent on Dec 12. I have not heard back from that email. I've attached for your records. I am asking if you can actually re-send whatever this filed CAFO is on the 12th of December rather than asking me to respond to the email. I am sorry but I need to be able to see what it is. Thanks so much. I assume this is the part in the process where we are supposed to make payment.
