ORDER RESCHEDULING PREHEARING FILING

Previously, Advanced Electronics had sought an extension of time for the filing of its reply prehearing exchange. Advanced Electronics requested this extension in order to file certain Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA") requests and to initiate discovery in this case. In an order dated May 7, 1999, the May 13 deadline for filing reply prehearing exchanges was stayed pending resolution of respondent's discovery request.

In a separate order issued this date, Advanced Electronics's motion to conduct limited discovery was denied.¹ Accordingly, a new prehearing filing date is set forth in this order. The parties are directed to file any reply prehearing exchanges no later than June 4, 1999.

¹ Also, aside from the discovery aspect of Advanced Electronics's motion for extension of time, there has been no showing by respondent as to why the proceedings in this case should be delayed while it pursues its FOIA requests. If respondent subsequently obtains material through FOIA, which it believes is relevant to this case, it can move to amend its prehearing exchange.
