

Question:

When do you first test for the Appendix VIII constituents to determine your background levels?

Resolution:

You first test for the Appendix VIII constituents when your detection monitoring program results in a statistically significant increase in parameters (See 264.98 (h)). Your background levels will be those upgradient of your facility.