

Date: 04/08/2010 02:22 AM

Subject: Science Advisory Board Comments

Please put a moratorium on the Marcellus Shale drilling in our nation until the facts and dangers are studied. In my state of Pennsylvania, they are drilling everywhere and anywhere regardless of the environmental dangers. There is a spill a day somewhere in our state and thousands can no longer drink their water after the wells are drilled. When the most precious of all things, fresh water, is at stake I don't think we can be too cautious. Every state in the union, where this is happening, problems of all types are coming to the surface. After a person's water and home is ruined, they get a too bad and we are sorry. I cannot believe this is happening today in America. I thought we have learned from our environmental disasters of our country's early years. Please, help protect our rivers, forests and the American people from this man made disaster!

Thank you,

John W. Parana